TELLS ROTARY BUSINESS OUTLOOK FOR COMING YEAR

Members of the Rotary Club at their meeting which was held Wednesday night at the Middlesex Sports man's Association Club House, heard a well-timed talk by "The Business Outlook for the Year 1928," given by Mr. Ralph D. Wilson of the Babson Institute.

Mr. Wilson's talk might be described as conservatively optimistic. He thought that while business in general might be good there would not be the great volume of business nor the prosperity that there had been in 1927. Conditions, he said, would be such that the business man would have to be careful. In the coming year the difference between the good and the bad business man would come out more strongly. The men who know how will survive, while those who do not will be moribund to go down. Although there were many bankruptcies and failures in 1927, there will be more in 1928. The tendency in the coming year Mr. Wilson believes, will be to cut down the number of concerns in the

ANNUAL DANCANT ATTENDED BY MANY YOUNG PEOPLE

There were fully two hundred young people, many of them of high school and college age, who attended the annual New Year's Dancant given by the Arlington Girl Scout Council. It was held Monday afternoon, in Robbins Memorial Town hall, and has been spoken of as an unusually pretty party.

Mrs. Harold Yeames, the Commissioner, and Mrs. F. L. Eames, Deputy Commissioner, also Mrs. Edward L. Shinn, a member of the Council, matronized the party. Other members of the Council were present during part of the afternoon.

The Original Six played for the dancing and Blake furnished the ice cream at intermission.

ARLINGTON TAXIS NOW ON CORRECT METERS

Arlington people who ride in taxis can feel certain now that they are riding as cheaply as, or possibly cheaper, than they did before meters were placed in the taxis. Certainly they are paying only for the distance they ride, says Mr. Allen C. Seal, chief weights and measures.

On Wednesday Mr. Seal, chief weights and measures, tested the new meters. He found that the new meters were run on the same scale as the old ones. According to the state law, the meter must register this mile correctly or within two hundred and fifty feet, in favor of the passenger. Mr. Seal found that every taxi at the Centre except one was overcharging as well as several at the Heights. This was due to a misunderstanding with the firm that put in the meters. All the taxis.

POLICE LIST 696 PLACES OF BUSINESS IN TOWN

When the police finished their annual census of places of business in town last week they had listed on the card catalog at headquarters six hundred and ninety-six, forty-six of which are vacant. This leaves six hundred and fifty stores and offices in town where some sort of business is being done. This includes law offices, doctors, and business firms of all kinds. The police also listed 1,100 places of residence. The census of places of business is a valuable record for the town. It shows the growth of the town and the needs of the community. ONLY THIRTY-FIVE ATTENDED HEARING ON PROPOSED BUS LINE THROUGH PLEASANT STREET

Only thirty-five persons attended the hearing on the proposed bus line through Pleasant Street, held in the Town Hall, Wednesday evening. The hearing was held to hear the arguments of the Hardy Canning Company, which is opposed to the bus line, and the arguments of the Arlington Board of Trade, which is in favor of it.

Mr. John A. Colbert, secretary of the Board of Trade, spoke in favor of the bus line. He said that the bus line would be a great benefit to the town. It would give the people a convenient way to get to and from the town. It would also give the people a way to get to and from the town without having to pay for a car.

Mr. John A. Colbert, secretary of the Board of Trade, spoke in favor of the bus line. He said that the bus line would be a great benefit to the town. It would give the people a convenient way to get to and from the town. It would also give the people a way to get to and from the town without having to pay for a car.

The Transportation Committee of the North Watertown Civic League sent a representative to tell of the benefits which the League was sure would follow to residents of Arlington if the bus line was granted a permit to pass through Pleasant street.

Mr. Earl Ryder of Norfolk road, Arlington, felt that it would be a convenience to people living in the vicinity and saving of money, as the fare from the corner of Pleasant street to Belmont line had been announced as to be but five cents. Through fare from Arlington to Watertown will be ten cents.

Charles M. MacMillan of Jason street, a member of Arlington Planning Board, expressed himself as favoring the granting of the permit to the Hart Motor Coach Company. Harry Wilson of Academy street also spoke in favor of granting the permit, as did Angus MacDonald.

Dr. Edwin P. Stickney felt that the line was not needed and that it would not be used by sufficient people to warrant the granting of the permit. Mr. Frank Callahan, of Medford, spoke in opposition, also M. F. Morrissey of Pleasant street.

After all present had been given an opportunity to express themselves regarding the matter, a vote was taken, which showed that there were fourteen in favor of granting the permit, and seven opposed.

This closed the hearing, waiting the action of the Board.

MANY DANCE ON NEW YEAR'S EVE WITH ODD FELLOWS

The Odd Fellows held a well-attended dance in their hall on New Year's Eve. Features were an elimination dance and a Virginia reel, which occasioned much merriment. Refreshments were served during the intermission. The celebration of the coming of the new year, for which all sorts of noise makers were furnished as favors, began at a quarter of twelve and stopped at midnight, when the dance closed. Waldron's orchestra furnished the music for dancing.

Mr. Edward McCoy was chairman of the committee, with Mr. Trafford Smith, Mr. Mel Sillican, Mr. George Maydock, Mr. Harry Bouton and Mr. Harold Crosby as his assistants.

Members of the Arlington Board of Trade who stayed away from the meeting on Tuesday evening missed some valuable information which they might have used for in their business. Mr. John A. Colbert, secretary of the Board of Trade, who was not present, said that the meeting was a very successful one. It was held in the Town Hall, and was attended by a large number of people. The meeting was held to hear the arguments of the Hardy Canning Company, which is opposed to the bus line, and the arguments of the Arlington Board of Trade, which is in favor of it.

Previous to this, however, was the dinner served by the Hardy Canning Company, followed by a brief business session. Several new members were voted into the organization. A complaint was made by Thomas F. Kenney of children going to and from school throwing stones at one another. He stated that his five-year-old grandchild had been hit by one of his mates with a stone, and in consequence had lost the sight of the eye. It was voted to bring the matter to the attention of the superintendent of schools, with the hope that the teachers would call the attention of the children to this dangerous form of play. The matter of a Post-office building for the town was also brought up. It was voted to petition for one, asking the assistance of our Congressman to bring it about.

President Charles M. Evans presented the speaker of the evening, who made it apparent that he was pleased to be invited to speak in what was, formerly, his home town. Mr. Colbert, who is a ready speaker, proceeded to tell the members what they could do to increase the efficiency of their organization, and to make it a power in the community, which is what a Board of Trade should be, according to Mr. Colbert's ideas.

He gave the Chamber of Commerce yard stick, by which each activity is measured:

1st. Does it insure the efficiency and prosperity of the entire community? 2nd. Is it the right thing to do? 3rd. Is it the best thing, and 4th. Can it be done.

Methods used years ago when man bartered to supply his needs, are out of date. Mr. Colbert continued. Arlington now has thirty-one industries that are employing a few hundred. There must be cooperation between these industries in the town in order to obtain the best results, not only for the town but for these industries. There must be an inclination first, and then cooperation among the traders of Arlington, which is centrally located, and in consequence attracting business men. Its easy access to other places by reason of several transportation lines, is an advantage to the town.

We have passed that mark when our town can be called a small community. Its rapid growth has brought many problems that must be faced and solved if the town is to progress. No organization is better fitted to do this work than the Arlington Board of Trade, according to Mr. Colbert. Obstacles that will hinder the growth of Arlington should be considered by the Board.

Such matters as the cost of running the town's business should receive the attention of the Board with the idea of trying to see if it were possible to lower the tax rate.

Transportation was another matter that might with benefit be taken up. Cooperation between officials and those vitally concerned would

A GOOD WORD FOR
ARLINGTON CHILDREN

Teachers of Arlington are trying very hard to implant lessons of courtesy and respectful conduct in their pupils.

The regret has been so keen that children of High School age showed such discourtesy to their hostess, the Arlington Woman's Club, at the performance of Hiawatha, that added efforts are being made in all social societies that this may never be repeated.

The Locatelli management of the Capitol Theatre of Arlington, recognized this deficiency of courtesy and conduct long ago, and sought a way to solve it in their theatre, and it is succeeding wonderfully.

In November, the Saturday matinees at the Capitol Theatre were changed to the "Special Children's Matinee" where a pre-reviewed programme of suitable children's pictures is presented.

To help maintain good decorum and courtesy, six women from local organizations matronize each week. These matrons along with an alert staff of ushers, the manager, and Mrs. Edwards, giving attention to every detail, has resulted in an audience of over a thousand children of whom one may be proud.

Attention is paid as to the manner of entrance—"Hats off boys" is not to be said nearly as late as at the first performance of the children's matinee. The children are taught that when the "specialty" is presented either by the courtesy of the matronizing organization or the theatre management, respect should be shown the artist performing, by keeping their seats and remaining very quiet, so all may enjoy the performance.

Eight weeks of this discipline has worked wonders—and when Santa Claus visited the theatre and presented each child with a toy, which was in the form of some noise-maker, the children were requested not to use them during the performance. They willingly complied with this request and hardly a noise was heard during the entire performance.

The management would like the older people to drop in and investigate how successfully this plan is working out, and how much saner and happier an afternoon can be where courtesy and decorum prevail.

The local societies, who have seen the success of our "Special Children's Matinee" deserve much credit in sending such helpful matrons and their expressions of satisfaction and willingness to serve again has been very gratifying.

Resident Manager.

ARLINGTON LEADS
BRIDGE WORLD THIS WEEK

The eyes and ears of the entire bridge world are turned towards Arlington this coming week. Milton C. Work, the supreme authority on bridge, will appear at Arlington Town Hall, Thursday at 8 p. m. in "An Evening with Milton C. Work"—the most entertaining and instructive presentation of this popular game.

The Women's Aid Association of Symmes Arlington Hospital is justly receiving a great deal of appreciation for bringing this "headliner" whose appearances are usually only in the largest cities in this and other countries. As only a few tickets are now available, bridge lovers—whether beginners or experts—should secure them at once from the members of the Women's Aid Association, whose names appear on the first page of this issue.

Over one hundred radio broadcasting stations will echo the name of Arlington over the North American Continent on Tuesday, January 10, when Walter F. Wyman of 215 Pleasant street, paired with E. E. Dennison of Portland, Maine, is matched in Radio Auction Bridge against Milton C. Work and Wilbur C. Whitehead of New York City. Mr. Wyman, who is general sales manager of The Carter's Ink Company, is associated with Mr. Work in the Auction Bridge Bulletin and is Card Editor of The Sportsman and Director of The Auction Bridge League of America.

—Miss Hazel Barker, Miss Alice Walker and Miss Polly Carpenter, all of whom are students at Smith College, went back to Northampton Tuesday, after a pleasant vacation at their homes in Arlington.

Fessenden; vice-dictator, J. W. Pierce; asst. dictator, L. O. Carter; chaplain, H. J. Crosby; guide, J. A. Madden; reporter, Geo. H. Rugg; fin. reporter, R. S. Sawin; treas., F. V. B. Kern; guardian, W. H. Pattee; sentinel, Thomas Higgins; rep. to G. Lodge, A. D. Holt; alternate, H. W. Huxley; trustees, James A. Madden, R. W. Shattuck and C. A. Libby.

Festival—Following a plan adopted a few years ago, the Sunday School connected with the Unitarian church had no festival at Christmas, but deferred it until this week. Wednesday, when the annual New Year's party was held. The little folks assembled at four o'clock and enjoyed themselves with games until six, when supper was served. After supper the games were resumed and the tables being re-arranged and prepared for the older portion of the company, they in turn were served with the good things so abundantly provided.

Snow Storm—Early Friday morning the threatened snow began to fall, and it continued through the day, making a passable sleighing, though only a few inches fell. At night it turned to rain, making the travelling very bad. We shall have to put this down as the first regular snow storm of the season.

Next week will be observed as a "Week of Prayer."

Twenty-five Years Ago This Week

Ernest Freeman, who attends the Military Academy at Worcester, enjoyed the holidays at the home of his mother on Pleasant street, Arlington.

Misses Anna and Helen Wood, who have been spending the vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Wood, returned to Vassar College on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Wells received their friends Saturday evening, January 10th, at their home on Massachusetts avenue, on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.

Mrs. H. W. Hopkins and her daughter, Mrs. Helen Gage Holliver, are in New York on a pleasure and shopping trip combined.

Arlington friends received on Saturday last, the announcement of the marriage of Mr. Frank Norwood Bott, of Arlington, and Miss Mary Louisa Morrill, daughter of Dr. George A. Morrill of St. Louis, Mo. The couple are to reside in Arlington, it being their intention to build on Academy street on a part of the estate owned and occupied by Mr. Bott's father.

The gale of last Saturday morning was felt in several sections of the hill, especially in the Park avenue district. A chimney on Dr. Ring's Sanatorium was blown down, causing some damage in its fall, and the covering for the roof of this new house was carried off bodily and scattered promiscuously. At Mr. M. L. Severy's the cupola on his barn was blown over, and at Postmaster Blanchard's on Acton street, a window in the kitchen was broken by the fierce gale and the blinds somewhat damaged.

—On January 13th, there will be a public installation of the new officers of Fannie T. Hazen Tent 76, in G. A. R. Hall, at 8 o'clock.

REVIEWS OF SEVERAL NOVELS
Mrs. George B. C. Rugg in the talk which she gave at the Universalist parish house Wednesday morning on "Novels of Beauty and Romance," reviewed very interestingly several novels to which she felt the title of her talk might apply.

Foremost among these was "Gallion's Reach," by H. M. Tomlinson, whose books on travel have secured for him so select and enthusiastic a coterie of readers. This, which is Mr. Tomlinson's first novel, combines with the beautiful style which has made his descriptions of travel so delightful, a well balanced philosophy. In describing this book, Mrs. Rugg went into considerable detail, analysing the intention of the book and telling something of the story.

Another recent novel, which she thought worthy of attention, was Willa Cather's "Death Comes for the Archbishop"—the imaginary biography of an archbishop in New Mexico and Arizona. From "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" by Thornton Wilder, she read a large part of the first chapter, as well as some of the last.

Of one less pretentious book she spoke because she wished to introduce the author to her hearers. This was "Moor Fires" by E. H. Young. "The Mad Carewies" by Martha Ostenso and "The Vanguard" by Arnold Bennett she characterized as novels where the story interest predominates.

In conclusion Mrs. Rugg gave her hearers a test to apply to the novels they read in the form of four questions—"What has the author intended to do?" "Has he succeeded?" "Is it important?" "Has it enlarged any mental, emotional or spiritual outlook?"

"Humanized Knowledge" is the topic of Mrs. Rugg's next talk, which will be given in the Universalist parish house on the morning of January 18th.

SUNSHINE CLUB AT NEW YEAR'S PARTY

Once again Mrs. Isabel C. Partridge opened her home to the members of the Arlington Heights Sunshine Club for its annual New Year's party.

The day (Saturday of last week) was anything but propitious for the party, rain and fog prevailing, but in spite of this there were members sufficient in number to occupy nine tables at bridge and straight whist, which was the entertainment provided.

Among the number present was Mrs. Nellie M. Farmer, one of the original members of the club, who, although not able to enjoy the card game on account of impaired eyesight, came from her Brookline home to meet once again in this pleasant manner, long time friends.

In the dining room was served refreshments throughout the afternoon. The center of the table held a beautiful plant, the gift of the members to Mrs. Partridge.

Six prizes were given by the hostess, all in yellow, the color of the club.

During the afternoon Mrs. Partridge read a New Year's poem, and the company joined in singing Auld Lang Syne.

The afternoon, while a happy reunion of long time friends was fraught with sadness in the memory of one who had been a faithful member and beloved by all now deceased, the late Mrs. Alexander Livingstone, Mrs. Clara Kimball, who is critically ill and so unable to be present, was also greatly missed.

A HAPPY SURPRISE TENDERED

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 28, a very happy surprise was given to Mr. John J. Sullivan, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Sullivan, 32 Lewis avenue.

Mr. Sullivan is a student at St. Joseph's Seminary, Calhoun, New York, where he is studying for the priesthood, and later to enter the Franciscan Order of missionaries. A number of his friends had come to welcome him on his holiday visit and took this occasion to present him with a substantial purse of gold. Mr. Sullivan thanked his friends most graciously and said that the occasion would be one of his most happy memories. A most enjoyable evening was spent with musical and vocal selections.

Beautiful refreshments were served by Mrs. Sullivan.

TALK OR WORK—WHICH?

Congress is rolling up its sleeves for talk and work. There will be plenty of chance for talk and plenty for work. If the members could be brought to understand that work is their strongest card with the public there would not be so much talk.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Troop 7, St. Agnes church, under the newly organized troop committee, Chairman William E. Rowe, John B. Byrne and William D. Graham, and a new scoutmaster, George R. Wright, has taken on a new lease of life and promises to be one of the best troops in the Council. At present it has 20 registered scouts. Everyone connected with the troop from committeemen to tenderfoot scouts are deeply interested and are working hard to make it a bang-up troop.

Troop 5, Arlington Junior High West has completed their cabin at Camp Oak and last Saturday built the first fire in the spacious fireplace and christened the camp. The cabin is a well-built structure 14 by 18 feet, with bunks for 12 scouts. It is erected on a fine bit of land and is fully a model for other troop cabins. Chairman MacAllister and his committeemen certainly did a fine piece of work when they made it possible for the troop to build this camp.

Tomorrow afternoon (Saturday) a goodly number of scoutmasters and scout officials will leave headquarters for the "Hike" to Camp Oak, which is a part of the Scout Leaders' Training Course. They will camp out Saturday night and return Sunday. The hike will be in charge of Scoutmaster Hersey of Troop 3, Belmont, and the subjects to be studied and practiced are "Hike Programs," "Map Making" and "Winter Hiking in Safety." Mr. Hersey will also give a talk on "Troop Programs" held over from the last meeting. Those going anticipate not only a constructive trip but a most interesting and delightful one. While the hike will officially last until Sunday morning, a number will probably turn Sunday morning in time for church.

A meeting of the Court of Honor, held in Arlington Thursday, the 4th inst., resulted in the following: First, Robert G. M. of Troop 1, Arlington, was elected to the position of Scoutmaster. Second, the following scouts were promoted: Raymond H. of Troop 1, Arlington; Thomas A. of Troop 2, Belmont; Timothy A. of Troop 3, Belmont; and Edward Wells of Troop 5, Arlington. The meeting was held in the hall of the Junior High School.

FATHERS AND SONS GATHER

AT CALVARY M. E. CHURCH

Fathers and sons, a hundred strong, gathered last Friday evening in the vestry of Calvary Methodist Church, where they were the guests of the Three Hundred Club at a delicious chicken supper, followed by an entertainment. Each boy, when he came in, was given a balloon and a piece of string, and there was much merriment while they blew them up. During the supper, to which every one did full justice, there was community singing.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Crane of Malden. He treated in an inspiring way the appropriate topic of the relations of father and son. Mr. Marshall entertained with songs, for which he played his own accompaniment. Rev. Charles Thompson Allen acted as Santa Claus, and took from the gaily lighted tree, which with the other Christmas decorations gave the room a festive air, amusing presents for the members of the club. Mr. Charles Dockrill was chairman of the committee of arrangements, with Mr. Fred Robinson as his assistant. Mrs. Ralph Kinney headed the supper committee. Assisting her were Mrs. Walter Carle, Mrs. W. W. Hackett, Mrs. Barrows, Mrs. Traylor, Mrs. Walkinshaw and

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

Continuing with a holiday policy of greater entertainment the Metropolitan Theatre, Boston, announces the program for next week as a double attraction: the personal appearance of Fannie Ward—billed as "the most marvelous woman of the age"—and on the screen Dolores Costello in her romantic picture, "Old San Francisco," said to be the greatest picture in her career since her appearance with Barrymore in "The Sea Beast." Added to these two will be Gene Rodemich in "Treasure Ships." Fannie Ward's name is synonymous with Youth. Sixty-one years old, she is said to look more like sixteen today. Miss Ward's career has been most extraordinary, both on and off the stage. Dolores Costello's "Old San Francisco" is said to carry with it all the picturesqueness of that city during the Gold Rush and Barbary Coast days. A Warner Brothers production, it is a frankly adventurous melodrama of Chinese intrigue and beautiful belles of ancient Spanish families. The supporting cast is headed by Warner Oland and Josef Swickard. Other screen attractions will include a cartoon comedy and the Paramount news weekly. "Treasure Ships," staged by Fran Carbra, features Charles Benn, the late dancing star of "Dearest Enemy" and his peg-leg dancing boys.

THE REPERTORY THEATRE

David Pinski's masterpiece of comedy, "The Treasure" will receive its first performance in Boston during the coming week at the Repertory Theatre. It is a play that every theatre-goer should see, an example of the sort of drama that appeals to all classes and the peoples of all nations. It has been aptly called on that account an international play. "The Treasure" was first produced in this country by the Theatre Guild in New York, and it received high praise at that time. Its coming to the Repertory Theatre promises equal success with Boston audiences. The stage settings will be the work of Josef Jorgulesco and the costumes by Grace Ripley, and the cast will include Cecil Cliffe, as Jachne-Braine, O. Beck as Tille, Arthur Sircorn as Jude, Adelaide George as Chone, Thom-families. The supporting cast is headed by Warner Oland and Josef Swickard. Other screen attractions will include a cartoon comedy and

Better Understanding

This year the arrival of 1928 in the Christian Calendar was celebrated on Monday. On that date several of the Boston dailies enlarged immensely (sixteen pages or more) on the topic chosen for last week's leading editorial—the steadily continued prosperity in things material that have marked the past year; in this fact and what is almost as certain, reposes ample assurance that the present year is to be a happy one, viewed from the business standpoint.

Now this is extremely gratifying, for dealings with the dollar (the buying and the selling) occupies the time and energy of most of us, during each work day of the year. But large and important as these considerations are, there are others that will contribute to the real prosperity of our country that are even more full of promise for the future, because they reach deeper. One of these is the rapidly growing interest in the general welfare of the wage earner on the part of those giving employment, notably the managers of big concerns. The beginning of this trend was quite early in the latter half of the eighteenth century, but was far different then and for a long period following, but it accomplished the then present objectives, the shortening of work day hours, the increase in wages and the securing better working conditions. It was in a rough school of this sort, however, that "business" was taught and the pupils came to realize that "every man has rights that every other man has the right to respect."

This allusion to things as they existed prior to the introduction of machinery as a substitute for hand work, is sufficient to focus interest on the point desired to be made, namely that the steady if not rapid advance in the matter of understanding between labor and capital in this country as a whole, is a stronger basis on which to rest hope for the future of our country, than any perspective gain in things material; a stronger guarantee than any other that as to day we are in the main a happy and contented people, a prosperous and world-famed nation, so shall we continue to be, but on a higher and better plane.

The influences that have resulted in this change of attitude on the part of controllers of business interests and in its full degree on wage earners, are numerous and branch out amid varied surroundings. Golden Rule, Nash gave it a push; a hand up was extended by Henry Ford; Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs exert powerful influence, as do many others that might be named, notably the "educational" groups.

There are several of these, but certain facts regarding one with which we are familiar will be sufficient to prove that our claim is warranted by fact. Its central office is in one of the original colonies joining together to form the "Union of States." The business concerns with which it has dealings through signed contracts are located in each and every one of the states. These business houses are numbered by the thousands. The men the Educator reaches number millions. The messages are sent directly to the employee through the mail, but not until careful editing and testing from every angle has proved their worth. In it all, there is a single definite object,—to bring about the fullest, the clearest understanding between the wage earner and his employer.

We leave to our readers the task of following the process we have described and to draw their own conclusions. We will only say that in most cases the concerns meeting the expenses of this "education" find the benefit so marked, that renewals of contracts follow. As to the attitude of the men receiving weekly messages, we would say that on a recent occasion we were shown over a hundred testimonials from that number of workers in a single manufacturing plant, requesting a continuance of this "education."

This indicates that the wage earner is desirous of securing a better understanding of the economic of wages and business. The growth of this activity proves that the owner appreciates the value of better understanding and believes that it is more important to make men than to make money. With such an appreciation of each others problems, precluding large labor disputes and with other stable economic conditions continued, prosperity is assured.

Repeaters In Crime Profession

New theories are being continually advanced for the suppression of crime. Most of the proposals dodge the main issue, namely, swift and effective punishment for the criminal. Why so much sympathy is extended to the criminal class by courts, juries and feature story writers is hard to understand.

A survey in one of our large and comparatively well regulated cities, reveals that out of every 75 felonies committed, only one offender was ever punished. One, paroled thirteen times, killed an officer. The "repeaters" are a large, serious factor in the whole situation and it was in an endeavor to improve this condition that the Baume's Laws were adopted by the State of New York. Under these laws the severity of a sentence is automatically increased for the second, third and fourth offenses, the fourth offense entailing life imprisonment.

It is an incontrovertible fact that crime becomes a "profession" in many cases. Prison records show that an offender is released only to be re-committed a many instances for a repetition of his first offense. Public life and property are constantly endangered by these "repeaters" criminals and the taxpayers are put to an enormous expense by endless trials and retrials.

When only a small percentage of those committing felonies are punished, and when there are countless records showing that a criminal is apprehended time after time, for commission of like offenses, it is essential that in all states penalties such as imposed under the Baume's Laws, which aim to do away with the "repeater" class in the "crime profession," should be adopted.

Instead of making laws more restrictive on law-abiding citizens, make them more severe on lawbreakers and criminals.

Arlington Woman's Club

Thursday Meeting

The regular meeting of the club was held Thursday afternoon, January 5th, in Robb's Memorial Town Hall, with the president, Mrs. Arthur A. Lawson, presiding. The corresponding secretary, Mrs. George B. Ottley, read reports of three previous meetings. That of President's Day, when the "Song of Hiawatha" was presented by club members, under the direction of Mrs. Stella Marek Cushing, chairman of the Music committee, was made especially interesting by the secretary.

Miss Edith W. W. read a report from the Ways and Means committee. Miss Ethel W. W. chairman.

appointed to take charge of the raising of the Scholarship fund. The sum of $5,000 was named as the one the committee hoped to raise. It has been the desire to wait, however, until that sum has been secured before definite plans are formulated as to the spending of it. Up to the present time, $850 is lacking. A plan by which this might be secured is being outlined by Miss Winn, which by using the groups into which the club has been divided. It will be something after the style of the endless chain plan, called, however, a "Vanishing entertainment."

A more detailed account of the plan will be given in these columns later.

Mrs. Nathan B. Hartford, chairman of the membership committee, read a long list of proposed members.

Mrs. Lawson then introduced the musical part of the afternoon's program, which was given by Emma Ecker Ainslee, mezzo-soprano, and James Ecker, pianist. Both gave a group of numbers that were delightfully rendered. Mrs. Ainslee has an especially beautiful voice, of wide range, which she has under perfect control. Mr. Ecker chose compositions by MacDowell, that were keenly enjoyed.

Mrs. Cyrus E. Dallin was gracefully introduced by the president as chairman of the literature committee, under whose direction the speaker of the afternoon appeared, to introduce him to the audience, which she did in her usual charming way.

It was Rollo Walter Brown, the well known educator and author, of whom Mrs. Dallin especially mentioned as the author of "Dean Briggs," so pleasantly spoken of by Mrs. George B. C. Rugg at one of her literature talks.

Mr. Brown took for his subject, "The Creative Spirit and the American Public." He made his audience realize that the most worth-while people are those who are creating, and made a strong plea to assist those who are showing that they have this essential attribute to the success of any nation. He spoke of the relations of the public toward the creative mind, which finds expression in cartoons, architecture, paintings and literature, and made it apparent that above everything else the creative spirit should not be suppressed.

An especially interesting and instructive program is planned for the meeting of the Arlington Woman's Club January 19, when the Legislative committee will arrange the program, which will be a portrayal of the workings of a U. S. Senate in which the members of the Club will take part. Mrs. Mary Livermore Barrows is to meet the cast to take part in the demonstration on Thursday morning, January 12, and Monday morning, January 16. These meetings and rehearsals are planned to be held at the St. John's parish house on Pleasant street, although they may be changed. The final rehearsal will be held with Mrs. Barrows on January 19 at the Town Hall. Mrs. Barrows' mother, Mrs. Livermore addressed the Club, when it was in its infancy. Mrs. Barrows is well known in legislative circles. She has spoken at many gatherings on this subject, also on current events.

SUNDAY FORUM

Two Great Speakers on Two Great Subjects

Two of the most important topics of the time, will be discussed at the Arlington Forum Meeting in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, next Sunday afternoon at 3.30. And the speakers will be men, eminent in their lines and splendidly equipped for such a discussion.

First will come Prof. Kirsopp Lake of Harvard University, who will discuss "Life as seen by a Theologian."

Then Prof. Kirkley F. Mather of Harvard will discuss "Life as seen by a Scientist."

Kirsopp Lake is professor of Biblical history and Kirkley Mather is professor of geology. There are few men who have gone into the study of Biblical history from the archaeological side with more zeal than Prof. Lake. In fact he is an authority on that subject. He was born at Southampton, Eng., in 1872, is an Oxford graduate. He got his B. A. in 1895; an M. A. in 1897; won the Arnold Essay prize and got a D. D. from St. Andrews in 1911. He was curate of Lymington in Dunham in 1895 and of St. Mary the Virgin in Oxford, from 1897 to 1904. Then he became a professor in the University of Leyden in Holland from 1904 to 1913. He came to Harvard as professor of early Christian literature in 1914, and held that chair until 1919, when he became Winn professor of ecclesiastical history. He is a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and author of a great many works including "Immortality and the Modern Mind," and "Religion Yesterday and Tomorrow."

Kirkley F. Mather was born in Chicago in 1888, graduated from Denison University in 1909, and the University of Chicago in 1915. He was professor of geology at Denison University from 1918 to 1924, when he came to Harvard as associate professor of Physiography. He has been chairman of the department of Geology and Geography since 1925. He was geologist with the U. S. Geological Survey in 1919, and conducted geological explorations in eastern Bolivia in 1919 and 1920. He is the author of "Christian Fundamentals in the Lights of Modern Sciences."

The concert preceding the addresses is to be by Helen E. Barr, well known soprano, assisted by Stella Marek Cushing.

The ushers will be members of the Community club.

THE new Hudson and Essex Super-Sixes come to the Automobile Show in completely new and arresting design, strikingly in advanced, and at once brilliantly original and authoritative.

The full unity of their beauty is a swift impression, impossible to dissect; and yet a detailed study of the advancements is of interest not only to Hudson-Essex owners, but to all motordom.

Newness begins at the very front, in higher radiators on both Hudson and Essex—an affect that is further heightened by vertical radiator shutter. The motometer has been removed from the front to the dash, and is now replaced by handsome radiator ornaments.

Lamps are of Colonial design, and are of the parabam type controlled from the wheel. Saddle lamps of the same type are mounted on the cowl by means of a crossing nickel-plated band. Fenders are of new design, full-crowned and beaded along the edge.

All bodies are lacquered in duo-tones, and carry a moulding all the way around, and out the cowl and hood to the radiator.

The front pillars are trim and narrow. In standard models the visor is the military type.

ALL Essex models are larger and roomier than ever before.

The instrument board is finished in a polished ebony. Set into this background is the grouping of instruments, including the ammeter, oil and gasoline gauges, speedometer, and motometer, all indirectly lighted.

The handsome new steering wheel has a steel core surrounded by ebony-black hard rubber and carries light control, hand throttle and horn button.

Hudson custom-built bodies are the Victoria, the landau Sedan and the 7-passenger Sedan. In all of them, the front body pillars are notably slender. The windshield frames are nickel-plated, so that the fronts of all three cars are quite distinctive and striking.

Body construction is of aluminum panels over a frame of selected hardwood. Lines are original and striking. Mouldings and color panels are employed to bring about distinctive effects. The rear quarters are finished in long grain landau leather, colored to match the upper body.

Four-wheel brakes are, of course, standard in both Hudson and Essex.

By Geo. MacKay, O.D.

Our eyes have been properly called the windows of our souls and age is the curtain that darkens them. When years of use or strain and neglect have so weakened the eye-muscles that they no longer accommodate the retina with the proper focus, an optometrist should be consulted. We will give you eyes a thorough examination and if you need glasses we will prescribe the proper ones for you.

Deaths

MRS. NILS J. ERICSSON

Following a short illness, Mrs. Nils J. Ericsson passed away very suddenly Wednesday morning, January 4, at Holyoke, Mass., where she has resided the past two years and a half. She was born Arvida Krupp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Krupp, at Stockholm, Sweden, and was the wife of Nils J. Ericsson. They were residents of Arlington for some thirty years, first in the Heights section of our town and later on Newcomb street. They moved to Holyoke a little over two years ago, where Mr. Ericsson had charge of the Skinner Music Room. Mrs. Ericsson had been a member of the Ida F. Butler Rebekah Lodge of this town, but was transferred to the Rebekah Lodge at Holyoke.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Harold C. Wilkinson, of Gardner street, this town; a sister, Miss Gurli Krupp, of Stockholm, Sweden; a brother, Frank, of Texas, and two granddaughters, Virginia Clark and Priscilla May Wilkinson.

Services will be held this afternoon, Friday, January 6, at the Skinner Chapel, Holyoke, Mass., at 2 o'clock.

Gahm & Erickson Co., Inc. Fifth Anniversary

In observance of their fifth anniversary as one of the business concerns of Arlington, Gahm & Erickson Co., Inc., the well known firm selling electrical appliances, issued a book. In it is told in a happy way what these two expert sellers of electrical goods, also electrical contractors, have done since coming to Arlington in the way of informing not only Arlington residents, but those of other towns and cities, of the many electrical saving devices for the housewife. The appliances which they handle have gone into homes of thousands, because of their ability to make people see the value of installing in homes, articles that not only are labor saving devices, but conveniences that have become necessities, such as toasters, waffle irons and irons, lamps, floor polishers, electric cleaners, washing machines and what not.

One of the valuable things about the little book, which is finely gotten up, is a list of appliances used in the home, and the estimated cost of operating per hour, at the rate prevailing in your district. Another page is devoted to answers to questions on laundry equipment.

During the holidays the Gahm & Erickson Co., Inc., store at 455 Massachusetts avenue, was most attractive. It was a blaze of color, both inside and out, and attracted a good deal of attention.

The firm is one that believes in advertising, and is growingly business-warranted that belief.

A PLEASANT REUNION WITH MISS HELEN LYNDON

When Holyoke resident, Christine Jackson, formerly of Boston, returned to her home in Cambridge, she was met by Miss Helen Lyndon, of 22 Paul Everett road, Arlington Heights.

The young people have the good fortune of the daughter, Miss Helen Lyndon, who have all returned to their homes at the Christmas holidays.

Among those present were the Messrs. Edith and Allen Johnson, Edith and Francis Irving, Edith and Rena Chillo, Marjorie Manning, Charlotte Lloyd, Helen Joseph, Helen Simpson and Isabelle Spouter.

A. H. S. BASKETBALL TEAM WINS FROM LEXINGTON

The High school basketball team opened its season on Tuesday afternoon, playing the Lexington High team, and winning 36 to 3. When the opening whistle sounded the Arlington boys in less than three seconds tallied their first basket. At the close of the first half, while Lexington got but one basket, netting them two points, Arlington had run up a score of 22.

Lowder was the leading scorer for Arlington, with six baskets to his credit. It was a well balanced, well seasoned team that went onto the floor for Arlington. This team has a code of signals and plays, that baffle the best of them.

In the last period Arlington did not try to tally, but availed herself of the opportunity of getting in some practice in passing. They showed up their opponents in all phases of the game.

Preliminary to this game, the second teams of the two schools played and Arlington won 27 to 7. This was a lively game and showed good material coming along for the varsity games next season.

BOWLING NOTES

Community Club

The championship of the Community Club Bowling League for the first half of the season has been won by Team E, and Wells of this team is the high average man. Simmons of Team F won the high single prize, with 129, and Green of Team C won the high three string total for the season with 331. The matches rolled Friday of last week resulted as follows: Team E took three from Team C. Team F won all four from Team A, and Team D did the same to Team B. The second half of the series will start Jan. 13.

Suburban League

Although the Arlington team in the Suburban League dropped three points last week, they are still in top place in the league.

Union Church League

There were no matches in the Union League this week. The A. F. G. Brotherhood of the Heights Baptist church is in top place with a comfortable margin. Unless they go into a bad slump they should carry off first honors this season. The Universalist team has gone into second place.

N. E. T. & T. League

The local N. E. T. & T. Co. League, made up of young women, has been holding regular bowling sessions each week. Several of the girls have become quite expert at the game. In fact their scores are on par with many of the men rollers.

Knights of Columbus League

The Auctioneers and the St. Patrick's went into a tie for first place in the Arlington Council, Knights of Columbus Bowling League, as a result of the matches rolled last week on the Arlington and Regent Alleys. The Auctioneers split with the Old Timers, while the St. Patrick's won three points from the Associates. Joseph P. Donovan of the Auctioneers was again the high three string man, hitting 330. He tied with John Sexton of the Elcos, with 129 for the high single string. The matches rolled resulted as follows: Auctioneers won all four from the Spares; Old Timers won three from the Bruins; Auctioneers won three from the Fillers; Bruins won three from the Heaphys; Auctioneers won three from the Zevs, and Auctioneers won four from the Brokers.

Middlesex Sportsman's Ass'n

Nothing seems to be able to stop the Middlesex Sportsman's Association team in the Newton League series. The team is safely planted at the top of the league, and it looks as if they would stay there.

SPORT NOTES

The ice hockey team will start games as soon as there is any ice available. "Why can't teams like Arlington High get a chance to play its games in the Arena?" is often asked. One looks back a few years to the time of George Percy, Jack Hutchinson, Bob Clifford, "Buster" Sloane, the Reyeroft boys, Bulger Lowe and many others who really helped to make the arena what it is today. It was the Arlington boys who were the drawing card to many of the games. They would be today, provided the boys were given a chance to practice and play in the Arena. Maybe when the new Arena is erected things will change, and the schoolboy teams will have an opportunity to practice on the indoor ice.

The hockey rink in the rear of the Senior High school has been erected. All that is needed now is a good, hard freeze so that the area can be flooded.

accomplish more in the estimation of Mr. Colbert than rushing into print with complaints. Traffic regulations might also be worked out with the town officials. Also changes in zoning laws might be taken under consideration and worked out by a cooperating attitude. A tourists' bureau was also suggested for Arlington by the speaker. This, he felt, tends to bring a feeling of good will to the community. He also touched at some length on community advertising, which he thought was especially necessary. He spoke of the advent of the chain stores and their effect on the long time merchants. His solution of this problem was for all these merchants to band together and with directed and thought-out advertising, endeavor to show the people that long time service of high grade goods merits their patronage.

The benefits of a credit bureau was spoken of. A suggestion was made as to how to handle the house to house canvass by one of town solicitors. The speaker had stress on the fact that only by active participation by the local business can this problem be handled.

The community chest which is the method adopted by Watertown in handling the town's drives was explained by Mr. Colbert, and the benefits that have come to the community by all the charity organizations in the town cooperating.

At the close of his most informing talk Mr. Colbert answered many questions and he was given a rising vote of thanks.

same kind of business. As an illustration, particularly pertinent, he took the automobile industry. Now, there are a large number of automobile manufacturing concerns all striving for quantity production. This condition, he said, cannot last. A situation is being produced where it will be necessary to cut down the number of manufacturers. He expressed the belief that within the year so many automobile manufacturers would be eliminated that the remainder could be counted on the fingers of two hands. These concerns will go in for quantity production.

In other industries there is the same tendency toward quantity production which is bound to result in a similar cut in the number of men engaged in each line.

While Mr. Wilson was not pessimistic as to conditions, he thought that in the coming year there would be more caution in buying, that people would be more conservative when it came to expense.

Mr. Frank A. Woodhead, president of the club, presided at the meeting, and introduced the speaker.

which were not complying with the law were sent into Boston to have their meters corrected, were given a second test and were back on the stand again by six o'clock.

The meter ruling has resulted in several machines. Formerly, a public taxi being licensed as a public automobile and operated from the homes of its owners so that there are fewer automobiles at the taxicab stands. When there were formerly fifteen taxis at the Heights there are now only six, and at the Heights four of these have dropped out.

REV. RALPH H. ROWSE SUPT. CITY MISSIONARY SOCIETY

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the City Missionary Society of Boston, Rev. Ralph H. Rowse was made superintendent of the City Missionary Society to succeed Rev. Fletcher Douglas Parker, who has become minister of the Immanuel Congregational church of Hartford.

Mr. Rowse has been minister of the Broadway Congregational church of Hartford Conn. and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Rowse, formerly of Arlington, now of Bedford. He married the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gratto the former pastor of the First Baptist church of Arlington.

After graduation from the Arlington high school in 1908, Mr. Rowse entered Harvard, receiving his degree from that institution in 1911. Three years later he finished his course at the Hartford Theological seminary. He won the John S. Welles fellowship from the seminary, and studied another year at Harvard and a second year at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. In 1914 while serving as assistant to the Rev. Samuel C. Bushnell at the Arlington Congregational church he was ordained in the ministry. His first parish was in Swanzey, N.H. During the war he served as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at the University of Vermont. Since October, 1921, he has been connected with the church at Hartford.

Rev. Edward Allen Morris, minister of the Orthodox Congregational church of this town, is a member of the Board of Managers of the Boston Society.

MR. NEWELL TALKS ON PRESENT DAY CHINA

Rev. George M. Newell of Foochow, China, spoke on "Present Day Conditions in China" at the meeting of the Bradshaw Missionary Society which was held Tuesday afternoon in the parlors of the Orthodox Congregational church. Mr. Newell, who is spending his furlough in this country, is well qualified to speak on this subject, as he left China only a year ago.

He told particularly of conditions in the missionary field and said but little of the political situation. He did, however, say that the papers in this country had made the atrocities committed in the recent disturbances appear much greater than they really are. It didn't compare, he said, with the Boxer rebellion; indeed, very few of the Christian Chinese had lost their lives.

In this country, he said, everybody is rich, so rich that they can have no conception of the absolute poverty that exists in China. He told the story of the work done by a young Chinese Christian in a little village near Foochow. As he was not of the village—his surname was Wong while that of all in the village was Ling—he was at first treated as an outcast, but before a year was past all the boys in the village were attending the school, for which he was allowed to use the ancestral hall of the village and he was sending to the training school at Foochow for helpers.

He pointed out that the Mission Board no longer sends out missionaries to China except by invitation, and that those who go act only as advisors as practically all of the missionary work has been taken over by the Christian Chinese.

Tea was served during the social hour which followed Mr. Newell's talk by a committee composed of Mrs. Rodney Hardy, Mrs. William Hardy and Miss Holmes.

MR. DOYLE WILL NOT RUN FOR ASSESSOR

Augustine D. Doyle on Thursday of this week announced that he has decided to withdraw his name as candidate for Assessor in favor of Augustus J. Power. This will leave Charles H. Gannett, the member of the present board seeking re-election and Mr. Power as the only two candidates thus far in the field.

REV. JOHN NICOL MARK TO GIVE A SERIES OF SERMONS

At the First Parish, "The Unitarian church," Rev. John Nicol Mark will start a series of sermons during January and part of February, on "A Working Theory of Life."

His subjects are: Jan. 8, "What Can We Reasonably Believe about God?" Jan. 22, "What Can We Reasonably Believe About Hell?" Jan. 29, "What Can We Reasonably Believe About Heaven?" Feb. 5, "What Can We Reasonably Believe About the Devil?" The public is invited to come and hear the Unitarian viewpoint on these great theological subjects.

AUTOMOBILE THIEVES ACTIVE IN ARLINGTON

Automobile thieves were active in Arlington last Friday evening. John Diggins of 53 Brantwood road, had his car stolen, from in front of his house, but later it was found on Mt. Vernon street. However, George Fisher of 14 Garden street, Cambridge, who was visiting here in Arlington, left his car in front of No. 63 Mt. Vernon street. It was stolen and found later in Brighton, apparently unharmed. It is thought that the thieves stole the Diggins car and drove it to Mt. Vernon street, where apparently they first tried, but without success, to unlock George Vail's car, afterwards abandoning the Diggins car and driving off in Mr. Fisher's.

Rogers, teacher of the Adolphian Bible Class at Trinity Baptist church, and vice-president of the

A. B. C. Bible Class Movement, talked on "Men's Work." Rev. Judson Hankins, pastor of the Heights Methodist church, also spoke on various men's movements.

A delicious oyster supper was served before the meeting and a song service preceded the talks. Mr. Chester Galt, Mr. Robert Maxham and Mr. Max Roberts were members of the committee of arrangements. There was a large attendance in which were included many members of the Heights Methodist church.

The firemen were called out on an alarm from box 26 on Wednesday for what proved to be a fire in the partitions of the home of E. G. Warren, 94 Franklin street. Girl Scouts Conference To Be Held In Arlington

For the second time in Greater Boston, Girl Scouts are going to take matters into their own hands and hold a conference all their own, with their adult leaders admitted only as guests and allowed to look on with pride. Following the experimental conference held last year with great success in Newton, the meeting this year will be held in Arlington, from Friday, Jan. 13 through Sunday noon, Jan. 15. Sessions will take place mostly at the High School, except for a public meeting Saturday evening in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall.

Miss Bettina King of Melrose is chairman of the whole conference, assisted by a general committee of 25, representing as many cities and towns in the Metropolitan District whose scouts will participate in the conference. Misses Dora Palmer of Quincy and Mary Doyle of South Boston will be session chairmen, and Miss Betty Slocumb of Malden is secretary of the committee, assisted by Miss Helen Bean of Dorchester. Arlington Girl Scouts are naturally active in the preparations, chairmen of sub-committees including Misses Roberta Bailey, Elizabeth Ames, Helen Bennett and Berenice Hayes. Miss Marie Dresser of Winchester, and Miss Jane MacGregor of Newtonville also head sub-committees.

For the most part, the Girl Scouts will discuss seriously their own activities and the administration of the movement. On Saturday evening, however, the public will be admitted to the meeting, and in addition to short addresses, there will be a pageant written by Mrs. Charles B. Mosely, of Needham, Commissioner of Metropolitan Boston Girl Scouts. The conference in general is being prepared and will be conducted entirely by Girl Scouts, with adult advice only when they ask it, and no interference during the conference itself.

The conference will start formally on Friday evening, Jan. 13, at seven o'clock, with a general reception to the delegates and their registration as fast as they arrive. Miss Elizabeth Eames of 24 Irving street, Arlington is chairman of the hospitality committee, which will be in charge of this reception, and Miss Mary Widlund of Quincy, of the registration. Miss Helen Bennett of 24 Hillside avenue, Arlington, is chairman of a busy committee which is arranging for the housing of these delegates from Friday through Sunday. Scout parents and friends of the movement are volunteering hospitality for this purpose, and each scout as she registers will be assigned to a temporary home for the three days. Miss Roberta Bailey, of 14 Wellington street, Arlington, is arranging transportation for the scouts between these temporary homes and the high school, or town hall.

Following the reception and registration on Friday evening, there will be a formal opening of the conference, with Miss King in the chair, giving an address of welcome. Miss Betty Slocumb will report as secretary, and thereafter short addresses will be given by Mrs. Harold A. Yeames, Commissioner of Arlington Girl Scouts, Mrs. Charles B. Mosely, Commissioner of Metropolitan Boston, Mrs. Arthur W. Hart, State Commissioner of Massachusetts, Miss Ruth Stevens, State Director, Miss Margaret Kimball, director for the Western Massachusetts Division, Miss Helen F. Potter, director for Eastern Massachusetts, and Miss Edith Sinnett, director of Metropolitan Boston. It is hoped also that Miss Sarah Louise Arnold, National President of the Girl Scouts, will be able to come from her home in Lincoln to attend the opening meeting.

On Saturday morning at 10 a. m., the Girl Scouts will go into executive session for the discussion of their own activities. With Miss Dora Palmer as chairman, there will be general singing and reports by the scouts of the various communities represented in the conference, after which there will be intensive discussion of two phases of the Girl Scout movement.

Miss Dora Palmer will lead the discussion of "The Responsibilities of a Scout," and other scouts to be selected will discuss these responsibilities as they are found in the home, in school, in the community, and out-of-doors. Miss Elsie Eagle of Quincy will start the ball rolling on the discussion of "The Patrol System," and other scouts will carry it on with respect to the working of the patrol system in the Court of Honor, in the local council, and the activities of the patrol leader.

Saturday afternoon, the scouts will divide into small groups, and will have their choices of the subjects to be discussed, with more intensive discussion possible because of the smaller number participating. Among the subjects up for discussion are Girl Scout Nature Work, in charge of Miss Helen Bean of Dorchester, hiking and out-of-door activities, leader not yet chosen, troop meetings, programs, and competitions. Miss Ethel Richards of Newton, community service and handicraft, Miss Lois Allen of Wakefield, games for troop meetings, Miss Ella Keurzman of Cambridge.

Guest night will be observed Saturday evening, in the Arlington Town Hall. There will be formal opening ceremonies, a report by the secretaries, and short addresses on scout subjects. Among them, Miss Jane Loomis of Newton, will describe the International Conference at Geneva, Switzerland, which she attended as official representative of the Girl Scout movement in this country. The pageant will follow, describing symbolically the contribution of the Indians, the Pilgrims, and other groups to the making of the historical character and ideal which is embodied in the United States of America.

The meeting on Sunday will be a "Scouts' Own," a semi-formal, non-sectarian religious service. There will also be a final address to the scouts and a farewell reception to them, to be tendered by the Arlington Girl Scout Council, led by Mrs. Harold A. Yeames.

Boy Scout Rescues Two Boys From Drowning

While trying the ice on Little Fresh Pond last Friday afternoon, James O'Donnell, of Wyman street, Arlington, and his companion, Joseph Buckley, of Concord avenue, Cambridge, both 12 years of age, fell into the water when the thin ice gave way. The Buckley lad held the O'Donnell boy up until their rescuer, Mark Dalton, aged 13, a Boy Scout of Cambridge, reached them. The daring rescue of the boys by Dalton was witnessed by a man, formerly of this town, and his daughter, who praised the plucky lad highly for his deed. For the Dalton boy on hearing the cries for help, did not hesitate, but plunged into the icy water to where the two boys were struggling, and assisted both to shallow water and thence to the shore.

WOMAN'S QUICK WIT BRINGS THREE MEN INTO COURT

The alertness of a woman resident of Winter street in taking down the number of an automobile in which three young men drove away from in front of her home last Friday afternoon, proved their undoing and resulted in their ultimate capture and imprisonment. The three men, in a car bearing a New York registration number, drove up to a house on Winter street, where one apartment was vacant. They endeavored to hire it from the woman, who had been called to the door. Although she informed them that she was only a tenant, they insisted that she accept a check they offered her to bind the bargain. This she refused, and the trio drove away, but not until she had noted the number of the car.

The three went to the East Arlington branch of the Five Cents Savings Bank and there, using the name of the lady on Winter street, asked to have a check for $25 cashed, which was done. The cashier, however, immediately got in touch with the bank on which the check was drawn and found that it was a forgery. He also communicated with the woman on Winter street, who immediately gave the number noted on the machine. The transaction was then reported to the police.

About three hours later Traffic Officer James R. Burns, doing duty at Mass. and Park avenues at the Heights, saw the machine coming toward him. The officer stopped the car and at the point of his revolver ordered the driver to proceed to the police station. Here the three young men in the car were booked on the charge of forging and passing a bad check.

They gave their names as Frederick Hochreiter, aged 25 years, of 125th street and Nicholas avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Bernard McHugh, aged 20 years, of 163 West 170th street, Bronx, N. Y.; and Sumner G. Smith, aged 22 years, of 100th street, New York.

All three were in Third District Court, East Cambridge, Saturday morning, and their cases were continued for further investigation. Each was held in $2500 bail and remanded to jail to await trial.

ANOTHER GERMAN POLICE DOG MADE AWAY WITH

Another rather wildly acting German Police dog was killed on Bonad road last Friday by Patrolman George B. Moore. This is the second dog of this species that has been killed in that section within a week of each other.

Two Thousand Men Unite In A Union Service

Upward of 2000 men, representing the Holy Name Societies of St. Agnes' church at the centre, St. James church at the Heights, St. Bridget's of Lexington, and St. Raphael's of West Medford, assembled in St. James church on Appleton street Sunday afternoon, to take part in the annual union meeting of the societies of this district. Each society had a section of the church assigned to it. The members of St. Agnes' Holy Name Society occupied the entire left of the middle aisle of the church. This was the first service of this kind ever held in St. James church.

Each society was accompanied by its prefect, Rev. Joseph P. Lynch coming with St. Raphael's; Rev. Joseph P. Murphy, with St. Agnes', and Rev. William T. McCarthy with St. Bridget's. The society acting as host met its prefect, Rev. James P. Sherry, at the church. St. Agnes' Holy Name Society marched from the church on Medford street to the one on Appleton street.

Stearns' musical vespers, under the direction of Mrs. George E. Bonney, organist of the church, was sung by the choir. The celebrant at the solemn vespers was Rev. Joseph P. Murphy, Rev. Fr. McCarthy being the deacon, and Rev. Fr. Lynch, sub-deacon. Solemn benediction followed.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. Sherry, who, in a convincing way pointed out the vanities of today, in which many seem to be more interested in than those things that do not perish with the ush;.

Incidental to the vespers there was the singing of the hymn "Hymn to the Holy Name," written by Cardinal O'Connell, led by the pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. Maurice J. O'Connor.
